Anti-Aging Skin Care System

Express eye lift

Bioflavonoids from the iris root

give the skin a firm, clear and good hydrated appearance.

Regu-Age

This active agent is a compound of soy and rice peptides as well as a biotechnologically generated yeast protein.

He protects the collagen and elastin structure and prevents their degradation.

He improves lymph flow, removes blockades and protects against free radicals.

The energizing plankton-extract GP4G

Fights environmental stress and stimulates the repair mechanisms.

Protects the skin cells from damages caused through UV-light.

The DNA is protected from photoaging.
