contains patented

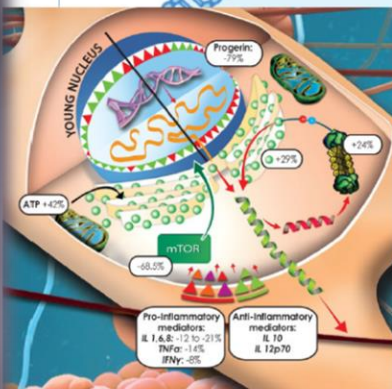

Anti-“Progerie“-complex to prevent premature skin aging

CELL
membrane

Reduces the production of Progeria in aging cells

(- 75%) NUCLEUS

Progerin

- Skin proteins synthesis process alteration
- Alteration of mRNA transport through the nucleus membrane pores, from the nucleus to the cytoplasm.

- Nucleus membrane integrity loss
- Nucleus malformation
- DNA alteration
- DNA repair process alteration
- Increases Telomere erosion
- Gene transcription process alteration

In the area of anti-aging, it is not only about the reduction of lines and wrinkles.

A key to the complicated aging mechanisms lies in restricting the production of the protein Progerin, which makes the skin age faster.

If the Progerin production is restored to the level of younger skin cells, the youthfulness can be retained longer, and premature skin aging can be delayed.
